at La Biennale di Venezia's 16h International Architecture Exhibition

Saturday 26th May 2018, 10.30 am Sale d'Armi D, Arsenale

The representation of architecture today has to do more with less. Not fewer pixels, colors, or materials but less time. Instead of berating a public for having a speedy life, what tools can we use to succinctly direct the attention of others? This two-hour Session will explore architectural imagery as GIF's, including a tutorial on how to make a cinemagraph using Adobe After Effects. Participants will create their own GIF from imagery of the surrounding installations at the Biennale.
