

The International Landscape Architectural Student Workshop brings together students from Pennsylvania State University (PSU) and the Hochschule für Wirtschaft und Umwelt Nürtingen-Geislingen (HFWU), organized by the Akademie für internationale Bildung (AiB). Held in Venice in the context of Biennale Sessions, on the occasion of the 19th International Architecture Exhibition by La Biennale di Venezia, the workshop fosters cross-cultural exchange and interdisciplinary collaboration. Students will analyze Venice's unique urban and landscape conditions, engage with the Biennale's exhibitions, and develop creative design responses—culminating in proposals such as mobile gardens for the city's residents. These combine the city's unique characteristics with the ideas of the Biennale.
