

“get involved VII – patternlanguage”

-to act and impact in space for better living-

For the 7th consecutive time get involved VII provides an international stage to architectural and built environment education for young people at special project Biennale Sessions, on the occasion of the Biennale Architettura 2025 in Venice. Current building culturally relevant topics and potentials for development are discussed and worked on in both theoretical and practical approaches.

At the two-day symposium PATTERNLANGUAGE – TO ACT AND IMPACT IN SPACE we want to develop an international, universal spatial sign language. On a experimental way we will find symbols and patterns, that enable communication across borders in a playful, experimental and low threshold manner, aimed at young people to animate them to participate in the design of space. As a kind of visual alphabet, symbols and patterns are what let us experience, understand and describe spaces
