Biennale College activities are planned in all these sectors, but with a novelty aimed at young graduates who want to try their hand at the art of "writing". The program will provide for each of the sectors, and for a given number of admitted, a research and writing work path assisted by a tutor, under the supervision of the artistic directors who will give the "theme" of the research. The work of the aspiring "young scholars in residence" will involve both participations in the Festival and research in the Historical Archive of La Biennale di Venezia.
